

What reasons do schools and colleges give for booking JustDifferent Workshops?

Teachers and Classroom Assistants choose to book our workshops for many different reasons.

Here are just a few of examples:

- to help meet the National Curriculum
- to meet objectives of Equality Duty
- to meet objectives of Every Child Matters
- for a new learning experience which is fun
- because disabled children were joining the school, because there was a disabled child in the school
- teachers needed some training on working with disabled people
- interesting and thought provoking
- to provide inspiration to pupils about their goals and potential achievements
- for an honest approach to disability from a disabled person
- an opportunity for children to meet someone face to face with a disability and ask the questions they have always wanted to ask
- to encourage children who had siblings who were disabled to be accepted in the class room.
- humanised issues of disability and difference
- to reduce bullying in the school
